Winonan Wins Honor Rating

Receives First Class Award
In N. S. P. A.
Contest

That the Winonan was awarded first class honor rating by the National Scholastic Press Association in this year's journalistic contest is the welcome news received last Monday by the president of the college. This rating is equivalent to a grade of excellent; and indicates that decided progress has been made by the members of the staff.

Summary of Scoring

In judging the papers entered, the N.S.P.A. considered four general topics. The table below shows the maximum score possible and the score made by the Winonan:

	Maxi- Score	Winon- nan Score
News value and sources.....	250	205
News writing and editing.....	300	215
Editorials and Entertaining Matter.....	200	140
Headlines, Typography and Make-up.....	250	190
Total Score.....	1000	750

Criticisms and Commendations

The sport page received especial commendation by the judges. In general the marks on mechanical aspects were very high. The chief criticisms were based on defects of news style and in colorfulness of subject matter.

Values of Membership in Press Associations

This contest and critical review is only one of the values received from membership in the N.S.P.A. Throughout the year the association sends out bulletins and pamphlets containing helpful hints as to the organization and functioning of college newspapers.

Debate Squad Asks Chapter

Apply For Pi Kappa Delta
Honorary Forensic
Society

In order to provide a focal point for forensic activities in the college, Cecil Gronvall and John Blatnik, aided by Dr. Minné and in behalf of the debate squad, are making application for the establishment of a chapter of Pi Kappa Delta at Winona Teachers College.

Pi Kappa Delta is a national honorary forensic society having chapters in 1,000 universities and colleges in the United States. The society sponsors not only debate but oratory and extemporaneous speech as well, conducting annual district contests in these fields and directing a national contest every two years. Every year the society selects a question which most of its chapters debate. This year's question, so chosen, was debated by our own teams.

The society provides suitable recognition for those who have distinguished themselves in forensics, accomplishing this through a uniform system of key conferring and a graduated scale of degrees. Dr. Neils Minné and Dr. Jean Brady Jones are members of Pi Kappa Delta.

Henry Southworth Chosen
President of New Study Club

A new club known as International Relations Club of Winona State Teachers College has been organized. The purpose is to study problems of international scope and it will be affiliated with an international organization of similar name which is financially supported by the Carnegie Fund.

It will be the purpose of the local club to meet for study purposes only. The membership will be limited to about twenty people. The requirements for membership are: a scholastic average of "C," attendance in the college for one quarter, and an interest in affairs among the nations of the world. Dr. E. S. Selle will be one of the advisors of the club.

The first meeting of the club was held Monday, April 24. At this time a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The following officers were elected:

College Observes Recognition Day

Senior Recognition Day was observed last Monday, April 24. It was the day when the seniors officially donned their caps and gowns for chapel exercises. This is a school tradition which will be carried on for the remaining six weeks of the term. The thirty-five seniors marched down the center aisles while the assembly remained standing in respect to them. President Maxwell gave a short talk on the rapid rise of the four-year program in this college.

Art Club Picks Prom Committees

Maxine Dickerson and Howard Roy have been chosen chairmen of the committees for planning the annual prom to be held on May 27.

Miss Dickerson will have charge of the decorations. Working with her will be Anna Jane Buck, Violet Kudart, Ralph Rydman, Betty Miller, and Borghild Gilboe. Dorothy Burrows will arrange for the lighting, Doris Kling for the orchestra, Florence Schroth for the program, Hildegard Bachman refreshments, and Fred Rowell woodwork.

The chosen theme, a Japanese garden, gives promise that the prom will be unusually lovely. The promise is made more emphatic by the fact that the Art Club under the capable direction of Miss Dorothy Clark will again plan and prepare for the party.

Gym Walls Make Prison - for Party

Met at the main entrance of college hall by an officer of the law, all those who attended the Men's Club party, were ushered in to the prison yard. This so-called prison yard was no other than our own gymnasium decorated with alternating stripes of black and white crepe paper giving the effect of prison bars.

From the cell block in one corner of the yard issued forth rhythmical strains from Harvey King's dance orchestra. As the term wore on, the members of the chain gang were refreshed with punch served at the mess hall.

Special Issue Describes T.C.

Aims to Rouse Interest of
H. S. Graduates
In Winona

The primary purpose of this issue of the Winonan is to arouse the active interest of high school graduates in Winona State Teachers College and to increase the numbers of prospective students here. The editorials and news stories have been centered on those topics which show most clearly the desirability of this college.

Insert Shows Activities

A special four-page picture insert is included in the papers which are being sent out to high school seniors of this region who have already evinced an interest in Winona. The pictures have been chosen with a view toward showing representative activities, scholastic, social, and athletic, of W. S. T. C.

Committee Plans Recruiting

Recruiting plans have been formulated by the joint committee on public relations which is headed by Mr. Reed. In addition to the project carried out by this issue their plans include the inviting of Winona High School seniors to the recent Men's Club party, and the presenting of brief concerts by the Grimm Trio at high schools in neighboring towns.

In general, then, the whole program centers around showing the real values of the state teachers colleges, and especially that of Winona, to those who are interested in continuing their education.

10 Are Elected To Purple Key

Signal Honor Is Awarded
Scholarly and Active
Students

The signal honor of election to Purple Key has been awarded to the following students: Thelma Anda, Kenneth; Paul Berkman, Chisholm; John Blatnik, Chisholm; Elfrida Franzmann, Stillwater; Cecil Gronvall, Red Wing; La Rue Jensen, Albert Lea; William Owens, Winona; Anthony Sampson, Mankato; Eugene Sweazy, Winona; and Mildred Uggen, Wells. Of these people Cecil Gronvall and William Owens are sophomores.

Membership in Purple Key is based upon promise of unusual service in the field of education. Election to membership in the organization is based upon scholarship, participation in not less than four elective extra-curricular activities, and social and professional attitudes becoming to a teacher. Of those qualified in these respects the ten highest in scholarship become members of Purple Key. Students in the last quarter of their sophomore year are eligible on the same basis as juniors and seniors.

Last year's members of Purple Key who are attending college this year are: Helen Hammond, Daphne Buck, and Art Tait. Floretta Murray, teacher of art in the elementary school, was also a member.

A Senior Speaks— Values of T.C.

I am about to graduate from the degree course of this college. Recognition Day has made me aware of the values that can be derived from attendance at a state teachers college. Some of these are unique; others accrue, of course, at other institutions of learning. I have tried to subtract sentimentality from my opinions; the remainder is as follows.

1. Participation with all that it connotes of co-operation and interplay of personalities is stressed with the result that both the individual and the school group are benefited. The picture section which is sent to high school seniors with this paper gives a representative view of the many activities in which students here engage.

2. The true value of the individual is recognized. Most of us are rampantly individualistic, but because of the moderate size of the teacher training type of school, the person "finds himself," he learns to develop his latent characteristics for the social good.

3. Without presumptuousness, we feel that an outlook of life is developed here that is satisfying healthy. The idea, that college life produces a mind set of cynicism and pessimism is disproved; mental health, as well as physical well-being, is strikingly in evidence.

4. Teaching is taught as a profession, not as a stepping-stone to more lucrative occupations. True teaching is idealized, but at the same time practicality is emphasized. An example of this union of the practical and ideal is found in the courses in history and philosophy of education and the practice teaching each student must complete.

5. I might list many other tangible values received here, but to me the most worthwhile but most intangible ones are the attitudes I have formed, attitudes in regard to self, profession, and society. They are difficult to describe, hard to classify, but indispensable.

ON SCHOOL DANCES

Those of us who delight in exercising our supple limbs in dancing have of late, been denied much opportunity to do so. We understand this to be no fault of the social committee or any other organization in school; in fact, the students of the college have demanded no more, unless they have done so quietly with weak voices. However, many of us have secretly wishes that there would be more school parties. Why not do away with much of the pomp and punch and push (and, by the way, we are in hopes of eliminating the push with the twenty-five cents addition to guest tickets), and have simpler parties and more of them? Punch has its taste and decorations have their appeal but the added expense accruing from them makes our dances few and far between. A bi-monthly Saturday night dance would amply fulfill our needs to the satisfaction of all. The major social parties of the year returning to the artistic qualities of the current parties, would have the additional advantage of being outstanding and unusual.

Class Play Lead Is Active in Dramatics

As a fitting climax to four years of participation in dramatic work, Hattie Southworth has been given the leading role in this year's class play, "Quality Street."

Hattie has played a variety of parts in these various plays, her role this year being one of a "not too elderly" spinster.

For four years she has taken the part of the wife in the annual Christmas play, "Doctor of Lonesome Folk."

She has also been active in other productions. She played a male role in "Taming of the Shrew," while in "Gold in the Hills or the Dead Sister's Secret" she took the part of old Kate.

In last year's Wenonah Player's drama, "Death Takes a Holiday," she played Grazia.

A RUSSIAN SEMINAR

Early in July a distinguished American group, which will include high school and college students and teachers, will visit the Soviet Union under the guidance of specialists. Many doors and avenues of approach which are closed to the ordinary traveler will be open to members of the group. The movement, known as the First Russian Seminar, is being organized on a non-profit basis and is sponsored by many eminent Americans who have distinguished themselves in one or more phases of the Russian problem. A complete announcement of the First Russian Seminar, including itinerary, dates, map, calendar and all other details may be secured from the Bureau of University Travel of Newton, Massachusetts.

The main purpose of the unofficial trip to Russia will be to give to members of the Seminar an unprejudiced insight into conditions, past, present and future. Propaganda pro and con will be completely avoided. The members of the Seminar will not only have an opportunity to hear lectures by distinguished leaders but will meet and talk in informal discussion groups with the cultural and political leaders of Soviet Russia today. Round table discussions and informal interviews with Russian men and women who are responsible for present day policies will be the order of the day.

Schoolhouses vary from large, splendid, stately, and useful buildings housing 10,000 pupils to sorry, rotting shacks. Although the one-room school for seven or eight classes is giving way in favor of consolidated schools at the rate of 2300 per year, there are still 48,000 one-room schools in the United States.

CLUB NEWS

League of Women Voters

Dr. Tozier gave a very practical and timely talk on the money situation at the April meeting of the League. The talk included a discussion of the gold standard and the monetary history of the United States.

Mason Music Club

A very enjoyable program of vocal and instrumental music was presented for the instruction and entertainment of the Mason Music Club at its April meeting. Beatrice and Bernice Schaffner presented several piano and violin numbers from Grieg, Schumann, Massenet, and Handel. An organ roll, "Fugue in D Minor" by Bach, was played.

Kindergarten Club

The Kindergarten Club made an excursion through the Watkins Plant on Tuesday, April 21, in place of the regular meeting. Much information was gained about the efficiency of a large plant such as this. The manufacture of products from the beginning to the finished stage was observed.

Miss Sutherland spoke before the Drama Club of the Winona Senior High School on Wednesday, April 19, her subject being, "Come, Let's Play."

Miss Schwable spent her Good Friday vacation in St. Paul.

Y. W. C. A.

The final meeting of the year will be in the form of a breakfast hike to be held tomorrow morning. All members are urged to attend because officers for next year will be elected, and a delightful program of fun and food has been arranged.

The Y.W. is sponsoring a sale of doughnuts and coffee during the free period on Tuesday morning for the purpose of raising money to pay for the picture in the annual. This method is being used because the reduction in dues this year has meant a substantial decrease in income.

Primary Club

At the last meeting of the club, Mr. Simmers gave an illustrated talk on "A Journey to the Home of Washington."

SWEET GIRL GRADUATE?

How many times within the past month have you heard that trite, but still lofty, expression "sweet girl graduate?" How about the boy who graduates from high school? Isn't he "sweet," too?

Well, my point is simply this — the girls are always in the limelight at commencement time and it's just about time the boys got a little recognition. Who gets the elegant new gown for graduation? Why, Sister Sue, of course. Johnnie's old suit is good enough! Nobody would notice whether he had on a new suit anyway! Who gets all the lovely gifts at graduation? Aw, shucks! Need we answer that! Of course, it's "Sis" again.

And now I'm finally getting to what I wanted to say in the first place. He who laughs last laughs best. The girls no longer have an advantage over the boys when it comes time to go to college. With six state teachers colleges in Minnesota supplying higher education facilities to Minnesota youth at very little or no expense to the student, every high school graduate of the class of '33 can have a college education if he really wants it. And that means the boys too! To be sure, there was a time when the "state normal schools" were attended in large part, if not entirely, by members of the fairer sex. Such is not the case today! Let Winona's figures tell the story.

Five years ago an enrollment of one hundred men in the college was deemed a rather distant goal. This year more than one hundred sixty young men have taken courses here; the gap between the numbers of men and women is rapidly closing. It is almost truistic to say that this is not a girl's school.

Why not then choose Winona for your Alma Mater?

Riddle Me This

In the style of Kiawatha
I shall tell you all about
Devastating situation
Brought about by my relation
Who insisted I should marry
Though my views were quite contrary
When I told them, "You alarm me."
They said I could join the army
Of the unemployed, and many
Broke like me, without a penny
While my comrade unemployed
Ply their trade with extra noise
Here I sit and scribble dribbles
Hope you figure out my riddles.

YE OLD INCENTIVE

She told me she would love me.
In December as in May.
Alas! Her love for me grew cold,
When she was told,
That story old,
By someone bold,
I'd get a cut in pay.

NURSERY RIME

Mary had a little man,
Little ham,
Understand?
Mary had a little clam,
And oh, she loved him so.
Cause every time that he went out
She went out,
"We went out."
And every time that she went out
He had to spend the dough.

LOVE AT FIRST BITE

Ed. (out with her for the first time) — "Where have I seen you before?"
Co-Ed. — "Silly! I passed you the olives at the Wenonah Players Banquet."

YE EDITOR COMPLAINS

GR-R-RAND COLLICH! Peebul gum and peebul blow and sometimes never happens.

'Twas NO MISTAKE

"Thousands of school children in Chicago go on strike." Lord knows, they couldn't expect the teachers to do it, what with staying home to keep the wolf from the door and studying their lessons.

LONG, LONG AGO

The office of the "Wenonah" has been transferred to the basement room of the German Methodist Church, corner of Eighth and Main. The editors were active throughout the vacation and reports promise a fine annual.

The Slick, Slippery, Seven gathered in Room 9 (the dining room of North Lodge) to partake of food which had been crated and shipped from Minneapolis.

Novices Engage In Track Meet

The annual novice track meet has been in session during the past week. The meet, which is under the direction of Coach G. E. Galligan and members of the Physical Education department, is open to all men of the college who have not made points in a scheduled varsity meet.

Last season the speedy Don Zimmerhahl of Caledonia, who is now at Hamline, walked away with seven first places while Alvin Berg took the others. This spring with these men gone from the eligible participants, the competition has been much keener.

The 220 and 880 yard runs, the two mile run, the broad jump, and the pole vault were scheduled for Monday, April 24. On Tuesday, the mile and 440 yard runs, the 100 yard dash, the javelin, and the discus; and, on Wednesday, the high and low hurdles, the high jump, and the shot put.

Ribbons were awarded to each of the winners. A complete list of these men will appear in the next issue.

Tennis Tourney Line-up Arranged

The line-up in the men's spring tennis tournament as arranged by Manager Kenneth Svec is as follows: Hoover vs. Amdahl, Viezbicke, bye; Blatnick vs. Schmidt, Tait, bye; Berg vs. Kreuzer, Pawelek, bye; Rothwell vs. Wunder, Roy, bye; Landitcho, vs. Erwin, H. Roth, bye; Svec vs. Herman, Scanlan, bye; Owens vs. Higbie, McCluskey, bye; Jaspers vs. Boots, Gislason, bye.

All games should be played off as soon as possible in order that the champion may have his name placed in the "W" club tennis trophy.

Novice Meet Results Shown

The result of the novice track meet are as follows:

2 Mile Run — Roth, 1st; Schlaepi, 2nd; Foster, 3rd; time, 12:24. 880 yd. Run — McCown, 1st; Weisman, 2nd; Sadler, 3rd; time, 2:23.

Low Hurdles — Roth, 1st; Kissling and Wiener tie for 2nd; Sadler, 3rd; time 31.2 sec.

The current or running expense of the schools is only fifty-one cents per pupil per day.

Women's Sports

The girl's volleyball tournament is progressing nicely. About nine clubs are represented in the tourney. The games are to be played every night until each team has played every team in the contest. If you have signed up to play be sure to look on the bulletin in the locker room for the time scheduled for your team to play.

The Misses Snyder, Enger and Glasrud seem to have taken kittenball a bit too seriously and are slightly banged up as a result of it.

Tennis is now in order. The lovely spring weather calls the girls to the courts. A tennis tournament is being drawn up by Esther Steffes, tennis sports leader. If you wish to enter, sign your name on the slip on the bulletin at once. Remembering that practice makes perfect, it might not be a bad idea to play a few games before you play your tournament game — just a bit of advice.

Physical Education classes in spring sports are now learning the fundamentals of kitten ball. Such skills as catching, throwing, batting, and running are being practiced. All the girls greatly enjoy this outdoor sport and have a fine time playing.

The W.A.A. had a supper hike last Saturday night. A number of girls attended and had a grand time. Every one agreed that the "eats" were swell.

Sports leaders of W.A.A. have made out programs for the rest of the year's activities. Hikes, splash parties, and a banquet have been planned. Looks like some good times are in store for "ye W.A.A. members."

Ruth McDonald and Florence Rogers were initiated into W.A.A. at the last meeting. Everyone had fun except Ruth and Florence.

College Secures 4 Golf Tickets

The college has purchased its yearly quota of four tickets at the Westfield Golf Course. All those who would like to play on the course are asked to sign up before they leave for the course. As a matter of courtesy, students are requested not to sign for the afternoon hours every day. When arriving at the club, students are to leave their special ticket with the superintendent before teeing off. These statements do not, of course, affect the golf team. Team members are to make arrangements with their coach, Mr. French.

With the four tickets available, students who do not play should plan on doing so this spring. Coach Galligan will be glad to give information to men on golf etiquette during the chapel hour on next Tuesday and Thursday.

Princeton University is now the proud owner of two rare Bibles. One is the first folio of the Geneva version of the Breeches Bible, printed in 1583. The other volume is a 1638 folio of the authorized Cambridge version.

Students at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., have set a record for saving. Word comes that during the past year the girls earned $44,468. $2,500 of this was earned by students working in the college offices.

Svec Is Elected Track Team Head

"KENNY" SVEC

Kenneth Svec of Zumbrota is this season's track captain. He was elected by the lettermen of the Little Ten championship track and field squad at the completion of the competition last spring.

"Kenny" was a three-letter-man last year and will probably duplicate the feat again this year, winning major letters in football, basketball, and track. As a senior, he has completed his gridiron career at tackle, his basketball service at center and guard, and, this spring, his track competition as a high jumper.

Last year "Kenny" was not eligible for conference competition but he will be available this year due to the new four-year ruling. Besides being track captain, he is president of the "W" club, vice-president of the Die-No-Mo club, and a member of other clubs of the college.

"W" Club Awaits All Day Picnic

The "W" Club is planning to hold a final get-together for its members some time during the latter part of May. The affair will be in the form of an all-day picnic with swimming and diamondball as the minor sports. (You guess what the major one will be.)

Coach Galligan and other members of the faculty will provide the transportation and the lettermen will take care of the rest. A location has not been definitely decided on as yet but it will probably be the Arches, since a diamond and a pool are available there.

The picnic will be the second social gathering of the club during the year, the other being the initiation luncheon held during the winter quarter. Kenneth Svec, president, has appointed a number of committees to facilitate matters. Other officers of the "W" club are Ernest Winter, vice-president, and Verne Herman, secretary-treasurer.

Illegal removal of books from the reserve shelves of the historical library at the University of Wisconsin has made an investigation necessary. So many books have been taken that the faculty committee is planning to take drastic steps to prevent a continuance of this practice.

1933 Football Schedule Includes One Night Game

WARRIOR TALK

The entries in the Southeastern track and field meet sponsored annually by the physical education department of W.S.T.C. are accumulating. May 6 is the day and let's hope it will be a cloudless one. A number of Wisconsin high schools will have teams here as well as those Minnesota schools who are perennial competitors. Mankato Teachers College announces the resumption of the Southwestern track and field meet on its new track in May. The meet was not held last year as an economy measure at the western school. We notice, too, that Coach Blakelee is planning on a night relay meet sometime in May.

The scribes of the city are anxious to have College Field as the scene of a number of outdoor boxing shows this summer. According to them, the flood-lighted field could be easily converted into an outdoor arena without excess damage to the property. Athletic director Galligan has stated that he is in favor of the move, if properly handled, as the rental fee would help to pay off some of the bonds still extant on the lighting system. However, the whole matter rests with the State Teachers College Board of which Mr. Somsen of Winona is president.

It will be a shame if only one night game will be played next fall. Much hard work and sacrifice has gone into the purchasing of the floodlights. Moreover, the night games have proved to be the best sellers. Coach Galligan is trying hard to contract a second game but the choices are few. La-Crosse and Bemidji both played here at night last fall and will entertain the Warriors this year.

What our track team has lacked for a long time has been a shot-putter. Couldn't someone be sent out to sign up Popeye?

The time is ripe for the organization of a diamondball league. The Men's Club through the Intramural board is the logical power behind the throne. There are many men in the college who would enjoy playing the game. Games starting at 6:15 would not be troubled by darkness. What say!

A bulletin from Rochester in speaking of the Junior College's schedule says "The toughest game of the season, naturally, will be the annual dog fight with Winona T. C. which also will be played here. The Gate Citizens won 2 to 0 last year. Rochester has been waiting three years for a victory over the Purple." And it is liable to be some game at the Clinic City this fall. Coach Jim Clark always puts out a scrappy eleven even though his material is thin in numbers.

Manager Svec of the tennis team has arranged a well-balanced bracket for the men's spring tennis tourney. Men who draw byes in the first round will play first round winners and, if defeated, will be able to step directly into the consolation bracket. This will give the second round losers much more chance for play in the tournament than has formerly been the case. The tourney should be exciting with such men as Hoover, Owens, Landitcho, Berg, and Svec contending for the championship. Look

Many Veterans Expected To Return to Bolster Grid Squad

As the schedule stands to date, it contains only one night football game for next fall. That game will be on Oct. 6 when the Warriors entertain the powerful Dragons of Moorhead T. C. Return engagements will force the Purple to be out of the city for two early season games, thus eliminating two of the night games of last season.

However the field will see night action on Sept. 29 when Winona High plays La Crosse Logan and on Oct. 13 when St. Mary's will engage St. Thomas.

Coach Galligan is striving to book a game with Stout Institute for the night of Sept. 22 or 23 but has obtained no contract as yet.

On Sept. 30 the Warriors will be in Bemidji to open the conference play. Oct. 6 will be the night of the Moorhead battle. The remaining games will be day affairs — at La Crosse on Oct. 14, at St. Cloud on Oct. 21, with Mankato here on Oct. 28 and at Rochester on Armistice Day, Nov. 11 to wind up the season.

A number of veterans are expected to bolster the squad next fall. Harold Rogge, Vincent Viezbicke, Ernie Winter, Fred Closway, Bert Laugen, Verne Herman, and Melvin Opem will be available as backs. In the line will be George Falk, Eugene Jaspers, Ronald Ramlo, Robert Matti, Casamere Maniaci. Kenneth Svec, and Joe Germ may also be eligible next year, while John Kozlowski may return to school. Supplementing these men will be a number of good reserves of last fall.

for announcements of the games and come out to see some real tennis action. Manager Svec will pick his tennis squad from the veterans and any promising material that shows itself in the tourney.

Vince Viezbicke was the only Warrior to place on the coaches' all-Northern conference basketball team. He won a berth at forward on the second team. The first team positions went to three Mankato men, Hoerr, guard, Kienholz, center, and Pennington, forward, one Duluth man, Enrico, forward, and one St. Cloud man at guard.

Johnny Kozlowski, going under the name of Al Kohler, gained recognition for himself at the Hot Springs camp on the Milwaukee Brewers baseball club. Favorable comment was made on his work at second base and the plate and it was hoped that he could be retained with the club. Unfortunately, however, the Brewers couldn't afford to keep John and a number of the other promising recruits on the job so they released him. He would like to play for the Winona ball club if he could get a job in the city.

EXCHANGE

Members of the staff of the North Carolina State "Technician" weren't superstitious, but when by a curious twist, issue 13 of volume 13 came out on Friday the 13th, they all crossed their respective fingers.

Oregon state is keeping close check on student-owned vehicles. All students found on the campus with a car not bearing a sticker from the office of the dean of men will be called before the faculty committee.

Visitors at the World's Fair in Chicago next summer will have plenty of popcorn to eat. Two University of Illinois graduates plan to use twelve freight cars of paper boxes to hold twenty freight cars of corn—after it has been popped at their forty stands located throughout the Fair grounds.

Ottawa papers are conservative. Last week a man was hanged for the murder of a filling station attendant. This is the second time capital punishment has been inflicted in sixty-four years, yet the Ottawa papers gave no more than a few hundred words to the story of the execution.

A $50,000 appropriation has made possible landscaping the new campus of Santa Barbara State College, Santa Barbara, Calif., on Leadbetter hill.

New York State College for Teachers, in a survey to determine where the best students live, uncovered the following data: of 126 names on the honor roll, 14.5 per cent were names of students living in non-sorority houses. The group ranking next highest scholastically, were students working for room and board.

A new wrinkle in the collegiate world is netting the promoters guest tickets to hotels and night clubs. The enterprising students arrange to have a band come and play before the student body. The band leader and the hotel owner (where the band is playing) are glad to accept this form of advertising and press upon the promoter a guest ticket for an evening of dancing free from cover charge and other financial details.
